POV OF OBJECT

A woman with long dark hair and green eyes is partially visible, looking directly at the camera. She is positioned behind the letters of the title, with her face appearing through the 'O' and her shoulder through the 'B'. The background is a solid black.

MORNING

The day begins with small routines. brushing teeth, tying shoes, stepping into the light. Every object around me watches as I wake up to the world.

PHOTOGRAPHY

THE SINK

You lean over me, washing away sleep and silence.

PHOTOGRAPHY

SHOES

PHOTOGRAPHY

I'm always the first to carry you out into the world.

PHOTOGRAPHY

HAT

I shield you from the sun, but I see every thing you see.

PHOTOGRAPHY

DAYTIME

Midday is full of motion, school, chores, and small moments of pause.
Even ordinary objects see the rush and rhythm of daily life.

PHOTOGRAPHY

VACUUM CLEANER

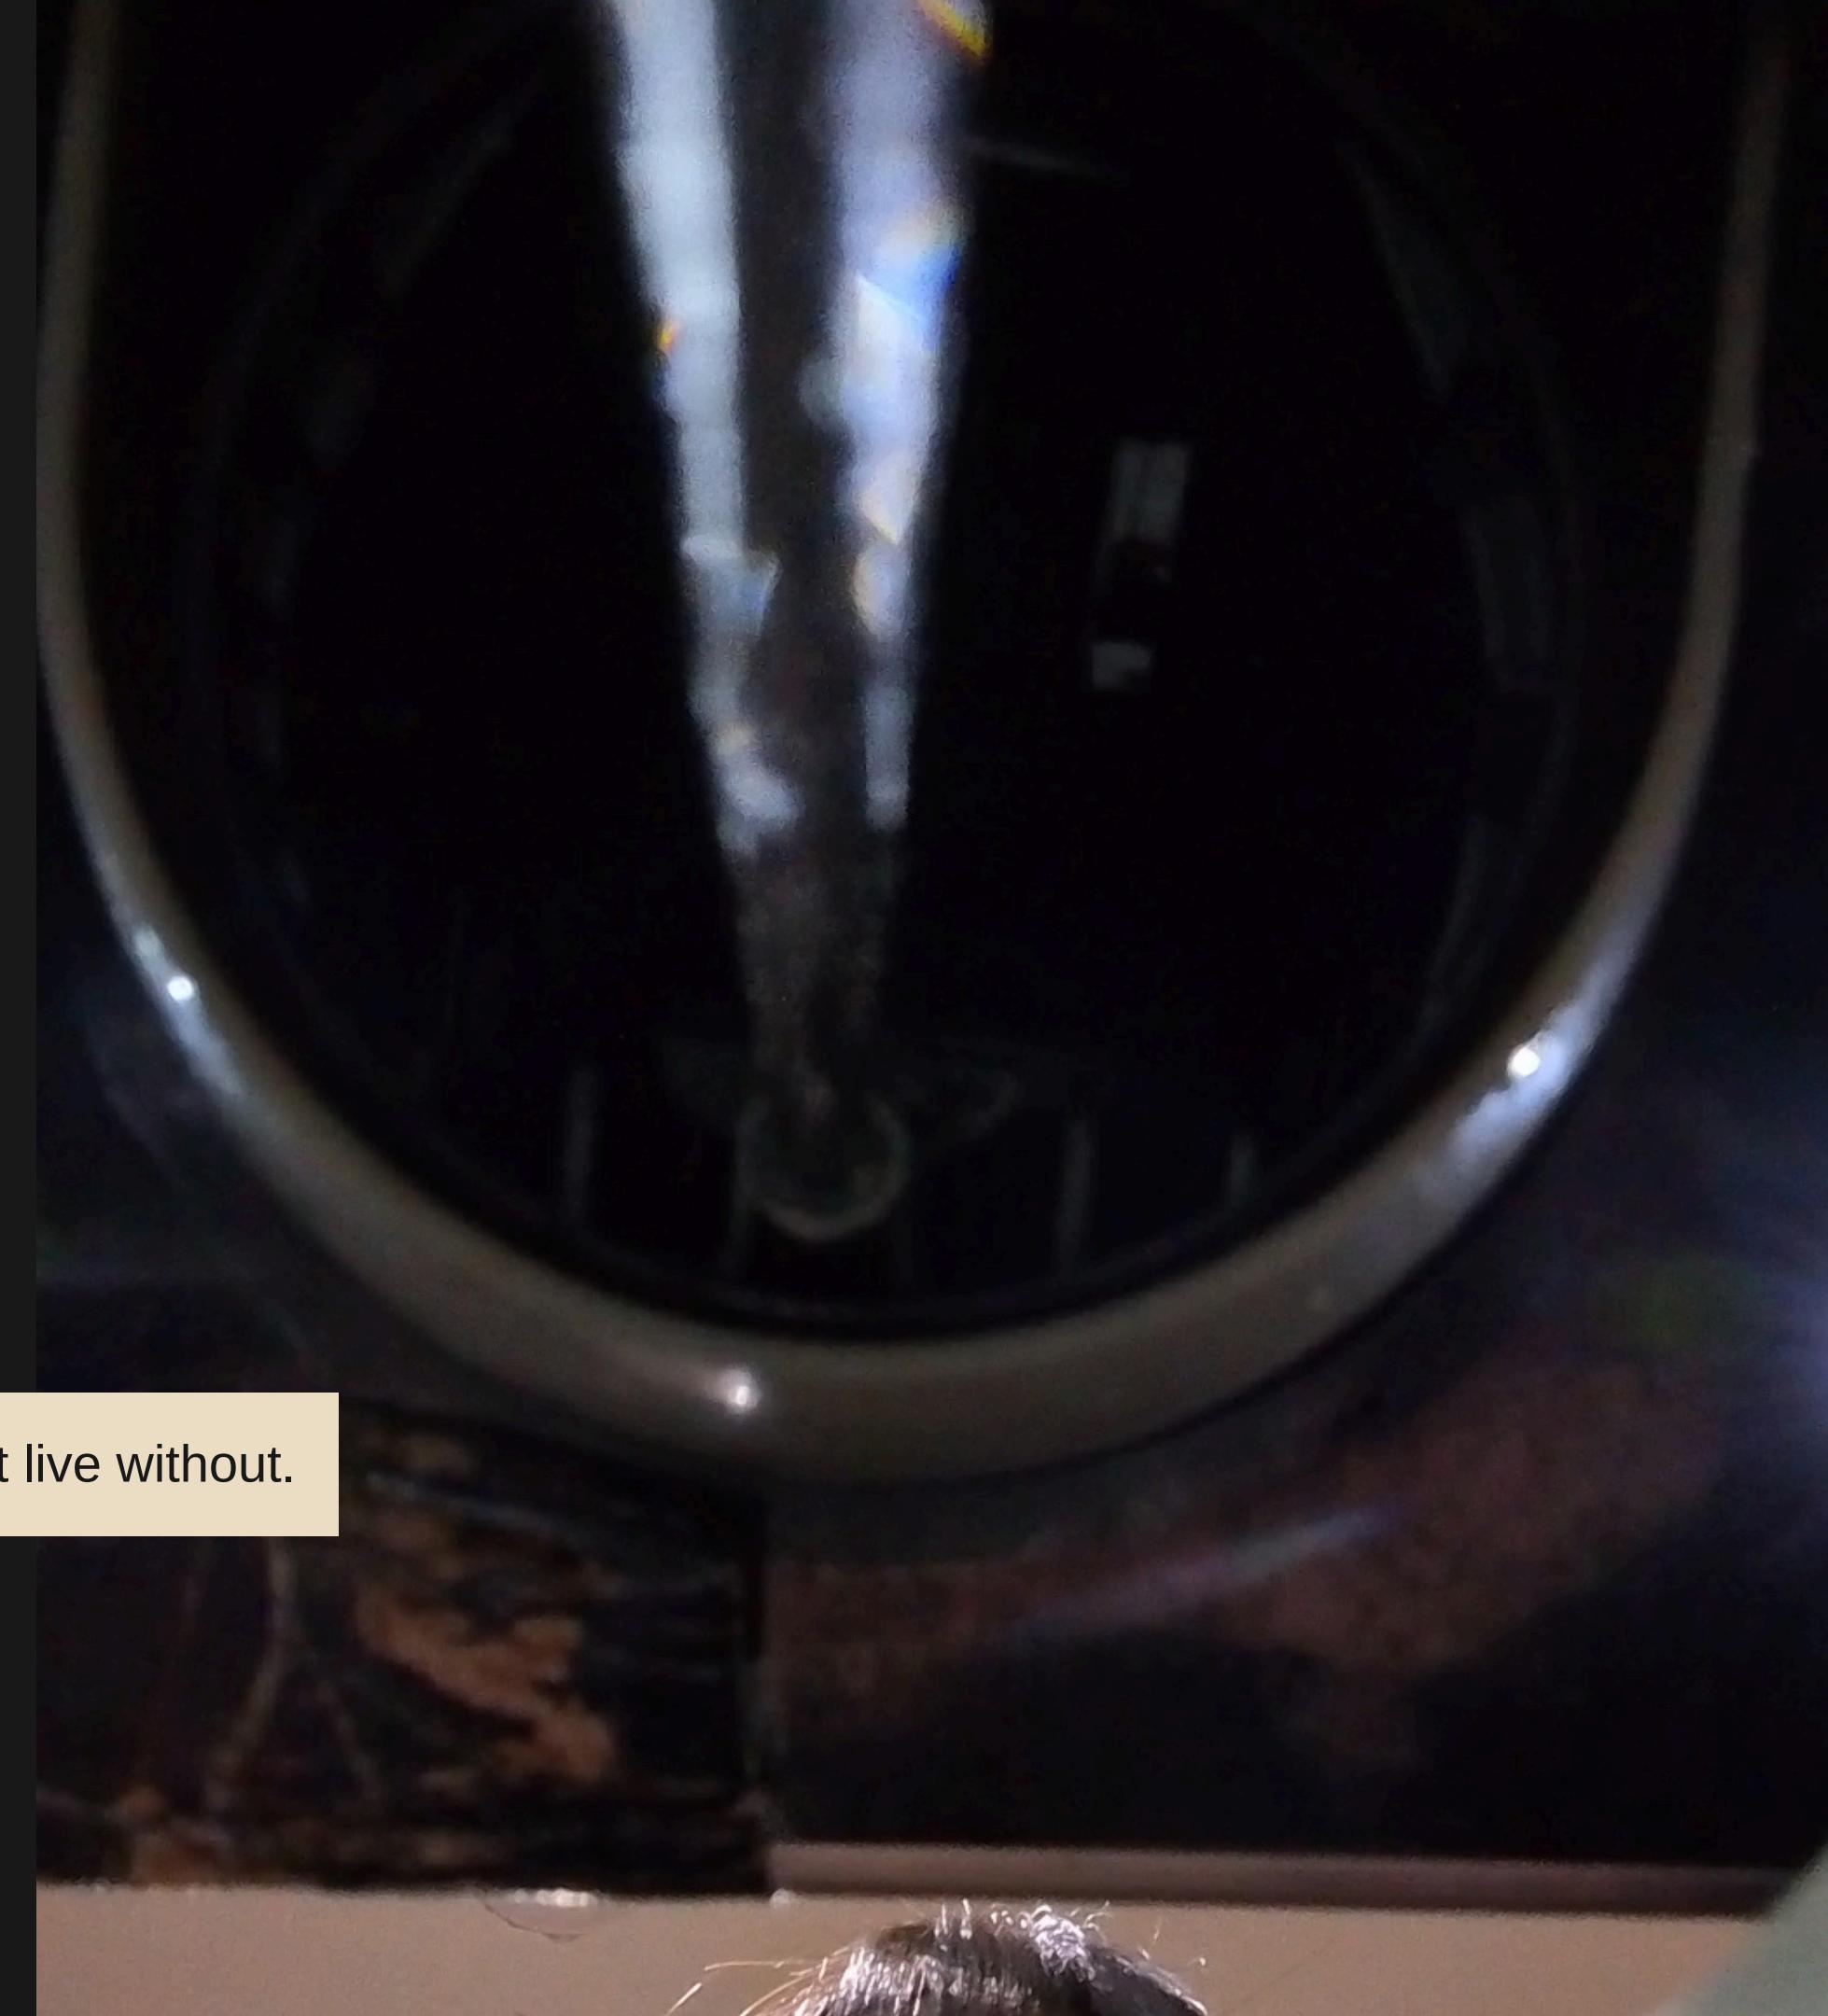

My eyes are always on the floor, chasing dust with you.

PHOTOGRAPHY

WATER DISPENSER

From my mouth flows the water you cannot live without.

PHOTOGRAPHY

MILK MUG

You fill me, you empty me. That is my entire purpose.

PHOTOGRAPHY

EVENING

As the sun fades, the pace slows. Lights flick on, the fridge door opens, and the day winds down until the pillow takes its turn.

PHOTOGRAPHY

CHOCOLATE IN FOODBAG

Every time your hand reaches in, I lose another piece of myself.

PHOTOGRAPHY

REFRIGERATOR

You open me again, searching for something I might not have.

PHOTOGRAPHY

LIGHT SWITCH

One flick of your finger, and I decide between night and day.

PHOTOGRAPHY

PILLOW

At the end of it all, your weight falls on me. I am the last to see you.

ARTIST STATEMENT

Imagining the POV of objects changed the way I approached photography. I experimented by filming short clips and capturing single frames, which gave the photos a more natural look. This process helped me realize that even everyday objects can tell a unique story.

PHOTOGRAPHY

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a white top, smiling slightly. She is framed by large, light-colored letters spelling "THANK YOU".

THANK YOU
